Mom, you were my best friend. I could count on you for anything. How I loved seeing you with your grandkids and great grandkids. The last 4 years you have shown how strong of a woman you are. You fought the good fight and now it was time to go Home. I am going to miss you dearly, but thank the good Lord you are no longer suffering and in pain. Oh what a reunion it must have been when you walked through those pearly gates. RIP my sweet mom. I love you.
