“ I am deeply saddened by this news. Dylan came from a wonderful and loving family. I remember moving Matt and Ben into the dorms of Texas A&M that freshman year and meeting Dylan for the first time. He was always such a well-mannered young man and a joy to be around. My thoughts and prayers are with all of the Thompson family and friends during this difficult time. Dena Rowland

“ The day you asked to marry our daughter was one of the best days of our lives. We knew you were the best man for our baby girl. You loved her and let her be herself. The reaction you had seeing her walk down the aisle to you was priceless! Then you blessed us with your mini me Lorelee. Not a day will go by that she will not know who her daddy was and how much he loved her. Keep watch over our girls son. Love you bunches and miss your goofy self! ”

I heard the news and my heart leapt to my throat and sank to my stomach in an instant. I felt the unrelenting pain of losing a brother and the heavy burden of watching a mom and a dad cope with losing a son all over again. That sounds selfish, and it makes a family's grief more about me than about them. I only mean it to say that the burden I carry with me for you is very real. My heart really does hurt for you all, Dylan's family. I didn't know Ruby but I knew his brothers and his mom and his dad. I hold a deep respect for them all...always kind, gentle, hard working, strong faithful people. My mother knew Ruby and told me what a beautiful person she is, and the continued kindness Dylan always showed and the pride he beamed with after he was married and became a father ...all long after I moved away from East Texas. I know the road the Thompson family will walk down in the days ahead. My prayer for your hearts is genuine. My love for you is sincere. There is no recipe for healing nor a cure for the aching heart, but there is a balm of the heart that not every man knows, but the Thompson family does...his name is Jesus...he saves us while we're still sinners and gives us grace in our weakness. He intercedes for us when our groanings are too deep for words. For the Christian there is as burning desire to tell others of this grace and point them to the cross on Golgotha's hill, and the tomb that is empty. There is a name above every other name to whom every man will bow, and Dylan is already there. He's gathered around the throne room...the holy of holies....There is a beckoning to you who read this to stay on the narrow road. Walk where few others do, in relationship with Jesus. He is the way and the truth and the life. No man comes to the Father and sees salvation without Him. May the Lord bless you and keep you Thomas, Rachel, Ben, Wes, Ruby, and Lorelee. My heart is with you, and may Jesus cover you with prayers and intercession before the Father. You are loved.

“ May 4, 2023 marked the second best day of his life - the arrival of our sweet baby girl, Lorelee Raye. He was the world's best girl dad and loved her tremendously ❤️ I am going to miss him playing his guitar and singing to her, making silly faces/noises with her, and them just laying on the floor playing together. He looked forward to watching her grow into her own personality and getting to hunt/fish with her one day. Although our girl won't have her daddy here on earth, she will know all about him through stories and pictures that will be shared.
