“ What a honor it was to call Jamie a dear friend in Christ . Jamie was one of the first opportunities I had to witness . I drove him to Grover Talbert’s house and we went over the plan of salvation . He accepted the greatest gift ever offered . Salvation. We kept up with each other thru the years . We connected again when Carlene gave Jamie her Hope key . Carlene couldnt have shared it with a better example of a man who showed such courage and faith facing such a horrible disease . Sharon was such a strong caregiver and loved and cared for Jamie . She is truly an amazingly strong Christian wife. God Bless the family for supporting Jamie and Sharon during his illness. What a blessing a strong loving family is during trying times. Some one stated to me after Carlene’s passing what a horrible experience those 10 months were watching Carlene’s terrible battle with pancreatic cancer. But as bad as it was , God allowed us that time to share our love for each other. To remember all the good times in our life and ask forgiveness for the few bad times . Our whole family pulled together to share as much love for Carlene as we could . I’m sure Sharon and her family are very much blessed in the same way . God Bless this family in the next year , pray for them as they mourn the passing of their beloved Jamie.
