“ I remember meeting Tami for the first time when she brought her roommate's granddaughter to a church children's event, and then stayed to help. She had such a heart for people, especially children. In the following months and years as I got to know her, my respect for the courage she had in facing the challenges in her life grew so much. My heart breaks that she has gone so young, but I rest in the comfort of knowing she is at peace, and I will see her again, whole and joyful praising the Christ she loved so much.
