“ Ms. Quinn was my neighbor down the street and around the corner for many years. She always used to wave at me, whenever I walked by her house, and was warm and friendly at all times as I recall. Near the end of her life, it was,my great privilege to play music in the dayroom of the nursing home where she resided, and I always tried to say hello before I left. I truly believe at times she was aware often of who I was, even though it was not apparent, and I know that some of the music brought back memories to her in her spirit. She will always be remembered as a truly lovely lady with a loving, caring spirit.
