“ Zel was my speech and drama teacher at Kimball High School in Dallas. Later we were colleagues when she taught at Spruce High School and I taught at Sunset. A more dynamic and caring human being would be hard to find. She provided incredible support to her students and to her schools. Never just the teacher, she took charge of a plethora of extra curricular activities even if they didn't really relate to speech or theatre. She will rest in peace while directing a show starring those students who have preceded her.
